Business Expense Justification

Use this one-pager to submit Xapa as a professional development / wellbeing expense.

What is Xapa?

5 minutes of play a day to win at the game of work.

Xapa is a career skills app that turns professional development into a quick daily game. Short, story-driven quests help you build the soft skills that move your career forward: communication, speaking up, giving and receiving feedback, leadership, time management, building trust, critical thinking, and working well with AI. Xapa is made for anyone who wants to grow, at any stage of their career.

Why This Qualifies as a Business Expense

- Professional development: builds workplace skills — focus, communication, self-control, and leadership — in the flow of daily work.
- Comparable to existing benefits categories: functions like LinkedIn Learning, Calm for Business, or an executive-coaching stipend.
- Low cost, high frequency: a 5-minute daily habit designed to reduce burnout and improve day-to-day performance.
- Personal investment in performance: supports the same behavior-change outcomes many employers already fund through wellness or L&D budgets.
